International seminar : “Co-working evidence in the Creative & Cultural Industries”

28th June 2017, Barcelona (Spain)

The TALIA International Seminar took place on 28th June and it involved the participation of modular projects in the Social & Creative thematic community, associated partners and key stakeholders in the thematic area. Following the TALIA project Launch Conference held in Bari (Italy) in March and, especially, after the “We are MED. Going beyond thematic communities” event held in Alicante (Spain) in May where synergies and transversal cross debates emerged among the eight Interreg MED thematic communities, this International Seminar is based on a high to low level approach:

- following-up with the work of the MED thematic communities framework “Modular and Horizontal projects, a living architecture”.
- cohesion of the Social & Creative community by facilitating engagement of clusters of stakeholders (SMEs, Academia, Public actors, etc.) involved in the Cultural and Creative Industries and Social Innovation developments in transnational co-creation processes.
- highlighting co-working evidence in the creative and cultural industries, as this seminar will be organized during the CoWorkMed modular project meeting backed to COWOCAT Coworking Day 2017.

The Coworking Day (29th June) was articulated in parallel sessions and panels, dealing with smart factories, territorial dynamisation, innovation and social transformation.
